

BIO EMILY TURNER SOLO -

Shorter:

Emily Turner crafts immersive live-looped performances where organic instruments meet electronic grooves, blending folktronica, funk, jazz, surf, and indie into something entirely her own.

Longer:

Emily Turner is a one-woman sonic landscape, blending organic instrumentation with live electronic looping to create a sound that feels both earthy and danceable. Using a Boss RC-505 looper, she builds songs in real time from ukulele textures, upright bass grooves, layered vocals, beat samples, and the occasional trumpet line, transforming each performance into a living, evolving composition.

Drawing inspiration from folktronica, funk, house, surf, jazz, and alternative indie, Emily's music balances natural warmth with electronic energy. Her sets weave together original songs alongside thoughtfully reimagined covers, deconstructing familiar tunes and rebuilding them into something unexpected and entirely her own.

Whether performing intimate originals or reinventing classics, Emily creates immersive performances where acoustic instruments meet modern production, inviting audiences into a space that's rhythmic, soulful, playful, and impossible to experience the same way twice.
